Steve Rogovich
PO Box 64251
Virginia Beach, VA 23467

Here is what we've been hearing on the air waves lately. Every month there seems to be a few new station names added. One of the newest, WPIG, has really been making some "noise".

Use the format you see here for your reports. In addition to the PO Box I also accept input direct from your PC to the ANARC BBS (913)-345-1978) or via Internet steve@infi.net.

When the size of this column exceeds its allotted space it becomes necessary to do some extra editing. I have made every effort to keep the logs accurate. There was enough raw material this month to fill 24 pages!

Reminder: If you wish your name/address to be listed in PLEASE QSL please make a note to me, I don't automatically print this info.

Welcome to new contributors Michael Folk, Paul Grote, Steve Johnson and Chuck Reh.

ALIEN STING

14 - Fortean Times 72

People eavesdropping on police radio broadcasts heard an emergency message about a flying saucer crash in a field at Appleton, Cheshire, and a warning about radioactivity from the burning spaceship. Five people raced to the scene and were promptly arrested by little blue men who charged them with telecommunication offences. Scanning devices are legally available to the public, but using them to listen to police transmissions is an offence. Guardian, Times, 23 Mar 1993.

What's News: the media report

Antennas are a necessity for every listener and broadcaster, yet good wire and certain important accessories are still relatively hard to find. There is, however, an excellent source for most of this stuff: Radioware. Vertical and beam antennas, rotators, grounding blocks and rods, and a "flex-weave" wire that won't snarl or kink are offered in their catalog, along with baluns, insulators, and a beverage antenna load. Prices seem reasonable, too. For your free catalog, contact: Radioware, 87 Belmont Street, North Andover, MA 01845. [direct]

Off the Wall.... the rumor center

ADD to Box 293: Radio Cambodia from Phnom Phen, and Laser Hot Hits...

Word is that Radio Stella Int'l is using 75 meters and 6810 kHz on a fairly regular (weekend) basis. Other word is that they were "busted", so your guess is as good as mine...

I have a QSL from Radio Garbanzo for Joe Frieder, but apparently Joe did not put his return address in his letter, so Fearless Fwed could not finish addressing the envelope. Please contact me with your full address! BTW, it's always a good idea to put your name and full address on each and every sheet of paper you send to me - and other ACE writers, too. That helps us keep things together a little bit...

Your friend and mine, WPIG, got a visit from Alex Zimny of the FCC on Sunday, 19 February. WPIG had been on 7415 around 5 p.m., as usual, and Zimny knocked on his door around 7. Nothing was taken, but the Op was warned to stay in the ham bands and communicate. For those wondering, the Op of WPIG holds a Tech+ license...

From the 'droperator of Box 293: "all reports rcvd at the Box have been forwarded to their proper destinations. The rest is up to the station operators." This refers specifically to WSRN (who did send out a few QSLs for their initial broadcast in March of 92), WRBA and Chicago Tunnel Co. Most of the stations using Box 293 do verify in a prompt manner...

GRIPE LIST: This month Skip Arey complains he hasn't gotten a QSL from Radio DC for a logging in the June 1993 ACE. Skip's QTH is: PO Box 644, Waterford Works, NY 08089. Sorry, Skip, but the Gripe List is only for reports that have been outstanding for more than one full year, so I can't help you...

News from here: while attending the Elmira "minifest" on 19 Feb, I yielded to an impulse and passed my no-code Tech exam - without studying for it at all. So, like a bunch of other people, I'm watching the mail for my ticket. Don't ask me why I did it, I'm not terribly sure. I put off getting a license for over 35 years and have little, if any, interest in VHF. Didn't bother trying the code portion, since I know I can't copy 5 wpm at this point. If my interest picks up, however, it shouldn't be much of a chore. And that's the latest from this shack...

Your loggings, information, and speculations about clandestine radio stations are always very welcome for this column. You can send them direct to your editor in Cleveland at 3492 West 123rd Street, Cleveland, Ohio 44111. Or, you can call (216) 941-3366 anytime, or else (216) 696-9077 between 1300-2045 UTC. We once again have an interesting collection of material this time.

HAMMOND LOGS FROM ALASKA

ACE member Dick Hammond of Chicken, Alaska checks in with two unidentified loggings. Dick is our first contributor from Alaska, so I am going to start out with a hearty welcome to him. I couldn't find Chicken on my maps, so I write back to Dick. He replied with a postcard displaying the sign for "the Goldpanner" that "welcomes you to Chicken." The sign indicates that the population of Chicken is 25 nice people and one old grump. It says that the attractions of Chicken consist of gas, diesel, tire repair, snacks, gifts, R.V. parking, groceries, and gold panning.

On January 19 the temperature in Cleveland reached -20° F, which was the coldest day ever experienced here since they installed a thermometer at the airport. Dick says that he looked up the temperature in Chicken on January 19 and found that it was -32° F. This was a heat wave, as it fell to -38° F three days later. Dick's postcard says that the temperature in Chicken ranges from -80° F to 94° F. I will stop complaining about our recent cold wave in Cleveland, especially since it has cut static on the SWBC bands down to zero.

Dick chiseled the dry ice off his Drake R8 on January 15. On 4160 kHz at 0750-0835 he heard an Arabic clandestine. Programming was typical of the genre with talks by male announcers that occasionally were supplemented by vocal music. Dick is asking us for help with a possible ID on this one. My initial scans through the usual information sources revealed several possibilities, but no definite suggestions. If you have any ideas, let us know.

Dick also heard talk and shouting in Spanish on January 16 between 0134-0137* UTC on 12278 kHz. The station signed off abruptly. It is slightly possible that Dick heard a clandestine communication of some kind here, although it is more likely that this was one of the hundreds of bootleg transmissions that you hear every day from Latin America. If anybody has any speculations on this one, Dick would like to hear them.

RADIO COPAN INTERNATIONAL

William Hassig of Illinois sent in an inquiry about his recent Radio Copan log. John T. Arthur commented briefly about this in last month's issue of The ACE, but let me second the motion. This is a new licensed station located in Tegucigalpa, Honduras. The operator is Jeff White, better known for Radio Miami International. William heard them on 15674.6 kHz between 2230-2244 UTC on January 22. Although the QSL's have been arriving on a slow boat, the station can be written to via WRMI at Post Office Box 326852, Miami, Florida 33152.

While we are on the subject of WRMI, Jeff White says that they are still in the testing phase with their new Miami transmitter. Jeff seems to move much more methodically than Alan Weiner, who apparently had few technical troubles with the transmitters on the m/v Fury. Hence, we have no regular WRMI clandestine relay schedule yet.

In the mean time, WRMI continues its policy of buying relay time on existing licensed USA SWBC stations. ACE member Robert Ross of Ontario reports another fistfull of clandestine QSL's for WRMI's relay over WRNO. His mailbox was stuffed with QSL's from Voz de la Democracia Cristiana, Movimiento Nueva Generacion Cubana, Cuba 21, and Ex-Presos Political Cubanos. All four QSL cards arrived in two months, containing the autograph of v/s Jeff White. The Ex-Presos station is the most interesting among this group. Veteran ACE members will remember the bust of this one in Tampa, Florida in the days when they were still using their own transmitter.

MORE ON RADIO PRETORIA

I have received several articles about Radio Pretoria, one of which was from ACE member Scott Edwards of California. This was a fairly big story for a while, but it got bumped from next month's MT "Outer Limits" by even bigger news about the FCC's bust of the m/v Fury in Charleston. So, I want to cover some of the developments here.

Radio Pretoria is an FM station in suburban Johannesburg. We discussed this situation in last month's column. Although it claims to be nonpartisan, Bill Keller of the New York Times says that "it has close ties to the Afrikaner People's Front, an alliance of right wing groups headed by retired generals." The programming is extremely right wing, even by South African standards. Many station employees are disgruntled former staff from the South African Broadcasting Corporation. Keller says that these staff regard the SABC as "part of the national stampede into decadence and communism."

The station technically became a clandestine in January when its operating authority expired, and following two court orders that mandated its QRT. The station responded by surrounding their installation with trenches and barricades. According to UPI, an additional confrontation was avoided on February 4. As part of a general issuance of short term permits to dozens of stations, Radio Pretoria received a temporary broadcast license. The government plans to issue permanent licenses in June. The UPI reported that ANC President Nelson Mandela said that the temporary license for Radio Pretoria "proves President Frederik de Klerk has no fighting spirit." Dave Alpert of New York (and ABC News) sent the UPI wire copy via Monitoring Times.

BATRES OF LA VOZ POPULAR IN LOS ANGELES

Last month we featured Robert Ross' excellent article about his interview in London, Ontario with Julia Batres Lemus of the anti-Guatemalan clandestine La Voz Popular. Scott Edwards sends in a follow-up. He says that he heard Batres last fall on a morning show from KPFFK, the Los Angeles affiliate of the Pacifica Radio Network. Scott reports that Batros talked extensively about the Guatemalan resistance movement, but that she did not refer to URNG's radio broadcasts or La Voz Popular.

KUGUK CHONSON

We are swimming in excellent material this month from Scott Edwards. He sends in a copy of the Kuguk Chonson English language biweekly newspaper of the National Salvation Front. Most of you probably did not subscribe to this paper when we mentioned it several months ago. It carries a 240 Yen or $2 US cover price for a four page paper, which appears to be more expensive than The ACE. The schedule for the anti-South Korean Voice of National Salvation English clandestine program is printed as part of the top masthead. The "Korean time" current schedule for the station is 9:30-10:00 a.m. on 1053, 3480, 4450, and 4567 kHz. The paper is still published by the Mission of the National Democratic Front of South Korea in Japan, Amatsu Building, 2-1 Hirakawa 1-chrone, Chiyoda-ku, Tokyo 102, Japan. Your phone-in requests go to (03) 3264-6567. Scott says that he doesn't send in any money, but they keep sending him the paper.

The January 22 issue covered various activities of the Central Committee and delegations of the National Democratic Front of South Korea (NDFSCK). They advocate that South Korean President Kim's regime should be overthrown, on grounds that he is a traitor. On the other hand, North Korean President Kim Il Sung gets more favorable coverage. Aside from Korean news, the January 22 paper printed an article in support of the Sandanistas in Nicaragua.

THE CIA, CASTRO, AND RADIO SWAN

Scott Edwards must have gotten his fill of Korean news about the NDFSK, so he turned his attention to a new book about the leader of Cuba. It is titled "Fidel Castro" by Robert E. Quirk (W. W. Norton, 1993). On pp. 308-309, Scott found some interesting references to the old CIA clandestine operations of Radio Swan and Radio Americas. According to Quirk, E. Howard Hunt and a man named Bissell presented plans for Radio Swan to Allen Dulles and a man identified as "Helms" at the State Department toward the end of the Eisenhower administration. ("Helms" is not identified as "Harry.")

The State Department would not permit an unlicensed anti-Castro medium wave station in Florida, so they decided to operate from Swan Island. Quirk says that Swan Island is "a tiny, barren piece of land off the shore of Honduras. It was inhabited by twenty Cayman Islanders who grew coconuts." a "powerful transmitter" was acquired from Germany for Radio Swan. Quirk accurately reports that the station used both MW and SW frequencies (1160 and 8000 kHz). He says that "the (CIA) agents tried to mask its ownership by airing commercials, but the Cubans were never deceived. When the Castro government received more powerful radio equipment from the Soviets, it was used to jam the Swan transmissions."

PROJECT WOODPECKER

While we are on the subject of covert projects, I need to mention Project Woodpecker. Scott Edwards forwards a copy of an article that ran in the January 6 issue of the Long Beach Press Telegram. The Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory, one of the USA's two centers that design nuclear weapons, announced that it received the 1993 Intelligence Community Seal Medallion award from the CIA and the National Security Administration. The award is on display at Lawrence Livermore. But, they refuse to identify the nature of "Project Woodpecker," since it is a secret.

Scott also sends in a February 17 New York Times column by William Safire on the new encryption standard that has been proposed by the federal government. They want to make sure that all computerized encryption can be decoded by the government. Safire attacked this idea as an encroachment on individual liberties. I am not sure if I agree with Safire. But, I think that as long as the government lets Fred Osterman put a button for this encryption algorithm on the M-8000 RTTY decoder, then it's OK.

RNI, WPIG, AND THE FCC

Although it is outside the realm of clandestines, I feel the need to briefly editorialize. The FCC has been on the loose lately. We all are aware by now of the FCC's January bust of Alan Weiner's ship transmitter in Charleston, South Carolina, financed by Brother Stair. More recently, news broke at column deadline time of another FCC visit. FCC personnel and the Woodbridge, New Jersey police poured out of the BunnnyMobile (actually a Jeep) for a visit to the studios of WPIG on February 19.

The March and April issues of Monitoring Times contain detailed analysis of the m/v Fury bust in Charleston. I am sure that you will want to read these accounts. Somebody was not too bright in this incident, and you know who I am talking about. ACE was the first hobby publication to print logs of the RNI operations that allegedly were transmitted from the Fury, as you saw last month.

News is still fragmentary on the FCC's voyage to WPIG. But, a reliable source in a position to know reports that during this visit, FCC personnel informed WPIG that they should not operate on 7415 kHz anymore, because it is located in the "aero band." I hereby notify the FCC that as I write this column, I am hearing dangerous interference in the "aero band" on 7415 kHz from a station in Botswana identifying itself as the "Voice of America." This USA government operation is currently sending out dangerous interference to aircraft in flight that will likely result in a plane crash with many casualties. Hence, I assume that the FCC and the FAA will immediately force the USIA to shut down its dangerous VOA aircraft interference immediately.

Either that, or else the FCC should fire some of the dolts who work for them. It is outrageous that my tax dollars are going to finance the paychecks of FCC personnel who take drives to New Jersey for the purposes of making an announcement that WPIG is interfering with aircraft. The FCC agent in question should be embarrassed, but perhaps Dick Smith can put him out of his misery with a termination notice. Alternatively, when the FCC agent gets out of New Jersey where Radio Shack has chickened out of selling legal equipment, he could go into Radio Shack to purchase a VHF scanner. It will be quite a surprise to the agent when he finds that airplanes routinely operate above the FM broadcast band. Now, save your stamps. I know that some overseas aircraft communications are on HF. I have been a DX-er for 31 years. During that time, I have never heard an aircraft transmission on 7415 kHz.

I invite the FCC to write to the International Telecommunications Union, where they will find easy to read publications that detail worldwide frequency allocations for various services. If somebody at the FCC can read, then they will find that they have a policy problem on their hands. If 7415 kHz is an aircraft band, it looks pretty dangerous to me when the FCC allows a dozen SWBC stations to operate with 20 kHz wide signals right in the middle of the pilots talking in flight. The ITU says that the 41 meter broadcasting band ends at 7300 kHz. I wonder if the Pope is aware that he finances a station on 7425 kHz that will cause plane crashes, just like terrorists in Europe with bombs?

I'll take my tongue out of my cheek, but there is an extremely valid point here. I agree that neither the ITU nor the FCC authorize pirate transmissions. But, the ITU does not authorize out of band transmissions either. The FCC is in clear violation of ITU regulations when it licenses international broadcasting on frequencies between 7300-7520 kHz. Thus, it is unclear how the FCC finds that it has the need to get on the case of WPIG. After they are done in New Jersey, they can drive their Bunnymobile to New Orleans, Alabama, Kentucky, and similar locations, where powerful transmitters are interfering at this very moment with aircraft.

WINTER SWL FESTIVAL

The Winter Shortwave Listener's Festival (The Fest) is scheduled at the Holiday Inn in Kulpville, Pennsylvania on March 11-13. Many of you have been at The Fest before, and all of you will agree that this event is an entertainment highlight of the year. Many ACE members will be in attendance, and we will be represented at a club display as usual. The hotel is easy to spot when you get off the first exit north of Philadelphia on the Northeast Extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike. (Turn left out of the toll booth, and there you are!) If you are thinking of attending, please accept my recommendation. If you go, you will be very happy that you went. Literally hundreds of DX-ers will be there. The radio fun is non-stop. See you there.

JAPAN RADIO CORPORATION

I received a letter from Paul Lannuier. He says that he has ended his employment as the USA representative of Japan Radio Corporation in New York. Paul will be at The Fest, so if you want more information about his future plans, just ask him.

THANKS!

This month we thank the following DX-ers for their direct input to the column: Dick Hammond (Alaska), William Hassig (Illinois), Scott Edwards (California), Robert Ross (Ontario), Paul Lannuier (New Jersey), and George Zeller (Ohio). ANNOUNCEMENT: Because of the 1994 Winter SWL Festival, we will have an unusually early deadline next month. We all would like to hear from YOU by March 5 for the April Clandestine Profile.

Press Information

1993 Clandestine Activity Survey

During the past 12 months the activity of clandestine stations on shortwave has dropped by 11.1 % to a new total of 1883 Weekly Broadcasting Hours (WBHs). This is the result of the latest Clandestine Activity Survey which has been compiled annually since 1986.

Clandestine activity to Africa dropped by 30.7 % and to Asia by 9.2 % while the activity to the American continent increased slightly by 0.7 %.

The number of active target areas (countries) decreased by one to 24. New target areas which were not active one year ago are Turkey, Tajikistan, Somalia and Egypt.

The biggest change from last year took place in Africa where clandestine broadcasts to Ethiopia dropped all the way from 149 WBHs to zero. The three most active target areas are Cuba, Iraq and Iran with 388, 288 and 244 WBHs respectively. This is exactly the same order as 12 months ago.

MICRO-'CASTING

brought to you by:

BUD STACEY

P.O. Box 907

SATSUMA, AL 36572

Contributions towards the goal of increasing & spreading knowledge about Part 15ing/microbroadcasting are greatly appreciated; this is YOUR column! Please send all loggings, QSLs, station information, broadcast schedules, tapes and what-have-you to the address above. Info for this column should be sent to arrive by the 15th of each month.

Welcome to "Micro-'casting", the column for and about microbroadcasters! Even though most folks are going in the direction of stereo FM, there are AMers "out there"...and I'd like to explore as many areas as possible, AM/FM/Carrier Current...all of it!

Me? Some folks are already aquainted with me, but for those who aren't: I'm a re-eyed, slobbering pirate radio monitor and enthusiast; have been since the early '80s (thanks to a fellow editor!). I enjoy collecting QSLs and other memorabilia (thanks, folks!). I've been involved in the radio hobbies for some 22 years, starting out as a BCB DXer as a kid. In a temporary fit of sanity, I agreed to take on this column; I figure it's something I can give back to those who've given me so much pleasure over the years!

My main goal is to cover as much information as possible about Part 15 operations regarding broadcasting, news & developments, station profiles, new (and possibly old) equipment for microbroadcasting, technical aspects such as antennas, homebrewing...hey, send me schematics, ideas and STUFF! This is YOUR column, and Mr. Keeney tells me there's lots of interest out there!

It's not mentioned much, but...even though there is no regulation governing low-powered TV transmitting, there are Part 15 TV transmitters available; do you use one in your home? One such type of system is The Rabbit, which incorporates a transmitter and receiver; from what I understand, these work in the 900 MHz range. I'm talking about the true "to-TV" transmitters, the ones that tune up on TV channels 2 thru 14. These allow you to watch your fave movie from the VCR, audio/video from a camcorder, etc., directly to your TVs around the Ponderosa WITHOUT wires. One such unit is Ramsey Electronics' TV 6 kit ($19.95 from Ramsey at 793 Canning Parkway, Victor, NY 14564, orders only at 1-800-446-2295; matching case kit $12.95). This transmitter actually tunes between channels 2 thru 6, but I have heard of others going higher.

There is a catch, however; the FCC rules & regs specify for Part 15, under TV: "The FCC rules do not permit any unlicensed broadcast operation in the television broadcast bands", dated July 24, 1991. I will be looking into this area further, since these devices are allowed under some obscure rule.

Want a current copy of the Part 15 rules & regulations? You could do one of two things: you could either order a copy from the FCC, or go the cheap route and visit your library, copies may cost from 5 to 25cents; I got lucky, mine were a nickel per copy & cost me $1.15. Read up!

Of course there are two commandments of Part 15ing: #1) the device must not create any interference, and #2) the user must accept any interference received, even interference that may cause undesirable operation. In other words, the micro-'caster can't operate on a "busy" frequency or interfere with someone who may be listening to a distant station...say, on the FM band. If you receive a call on that count you must cease operation! And, if something legitimate and licensed is interfering with your operation, you have no recourse; you gotta take it! Basically, the Part 15er has NO "rights", they are just allowed to exist. No problem...

Hey, let me hear from y'all! I'd like to feature YOUR station here! Send me pictures (black&white preferably), station profiles, reasons for operating...anything! We'd like to see you here! Deadline at the address above is the 15th of each month; here's to the success of another form of Free Radio!!!

Hasta la vista, muchachos! de Bud

Low-Power Radio Is an Idea to Consider

by Harold Hallikainen

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif. I've received several phone calls on my articles on low-power broadcasting (see last one in RW, Dec. 8, 1993), so I thought I'd answer some questions and expand on my earlier statements.

As this column is being written, the U.S. Court of Appeals in San Francisco is considering William Dougan v. FCC, a case raising several constitutional questions about the FCC's current method of licensing broadcast stations.

No LPFM

Ideally, the licensing policies should provide the population with the greatest number of program choices without interference, and at the same time restrict freedom of speech to the least possible degree.

The Dougan case could define how the FCC makes such choices in the future. Current regulations do not allow for low-power FM service, and those who attempt to operate such stations—the offense Dougan is charged with, along with refusing an FCC inspection—risk severe fines. Dougan was fined $17,500.

The FCC recently rewrote its FM translator regulations, and decided not to establish low-power FM. Dougan and related court cases are testing whether that decision unduly interferes with freedom of speech.

If the court finds in favor of LPFM supporters, sometimes called "microbroadcasters," I'd expect the FCC will allow local origination on FM translators, just as they did for TV translators starting the LPTV service.

If FM translators were granted local origination, they would still be required to be licensed by the FCC and to protect other broadcast stations against interference.

Prohibiting local programming on authorized FM translators does not, I believe, serve the needs of the listening public. It is government regulation of broadcast program content without justifiable governmental interest.

But many in the microbroadcasting movement claim that even licensing to prevent interference violates their free-speech rights.

Exceptions

Setting aside a few channels on a national basis for unlicensed broadcasting might be worth considering. Stations operating on these channels would not have to pay fees for use of the spectrum and would not receive any interference protection. It could be a sort of broadcast citizens band.

There is some precedent for limited unlicensed FM broadcasting. FM stations sometimes run using "leaky transmission lines." The signal is only heard at very short distances from the radiator, but the radiator is wired over a specific area.

This system is typically used to run an unlicensed college FM station in dorm rooms. It works like cable FM, except that the cable is a meter or two away rather than directly connected to the receiver.

Applying this type of broadcasting to wider areas with FM translators is another matter. It could be quite a mess. But it could also be quite interesting. As long as the mess is restricted to a couple channels, it might be worth it.

Another alternative might be AM microbroadcasting. The FCC is still working on allocating the expanded AM band. Perhaps a couple of those channels could be set aside for unlicensed microbroadcasting.

Ironically, several in the microbroadcasting movement favor program restrictions while at the same time using free-speech arguments to justify low-power, unlicensed broadcasting.

I see no need for program restrictions on local content or commercial content. Local content is nice, but there are programs of national interest that would be appropriate on such stations as well.

Why should microbroadcast stations be prohibited from running paid announcements? No such restrictions are put on any of the print media.

" You have not converted a man because you have silenced him "

-John Morley

The game is afoot, and it is being played on the seven to eight MHz shortwave band. Tis a silly game and is devoid of rules or even common sense. I am of course, referring to all of the new "junk" which has surfaced on the frequencies as of late. Is it not quite evident that the FCC is running low on manpower and funds and has resorted to the crowding game in order to run pirates off their favorite stomping (pun not intended) grounds. The practice of filling this area with high powered transmitters rather than concentrating on locating illegal broadcasters tells us that the cold-war loot is quickly drying up for various agencies. Perhaps the FCC feels that a handful of tiny ham transmitters used illegally by basically harmless oddballs, (pirates) is probable cause to clutter an entire band with teletype squeaks and snoozer religious programming. Maybe it just has'nt occured to the Federal Geezer Commission that one of the reasons that people enjoy listening to pirates is that they are the only thing resembling diversity on the whole spectrum. I am sure glad that crime has been curtailed so much that the federal government has money and time to throw away on catching bored shortwave enthusiasts. When I turn on my nightly news there are no reports of murder, burglary, or random violence, but rather, my set is filled to the brim with the daring escapades of those horrible pirate broadcasters. I think we are dealing with a slight perspective problem, coupled with the issuance of licenses to anyone who can guarantee the FCC that they will not broadcast anything interesting or humorous.

First please let me WELCOME Bud Stacey to the ACE staff! If you have anything pertaining to micro-casting, go ahead and start sending it to Bud directly. This issue is again full of great stuff. Thanks go to David Gasque, Katherine Jernigan and Bud Stacey for the clippings. Anthony Gann has supplied another "Free Moment" and I hope that makes it in here somewhere too. If any of you station operators are interested in the SWR-Switzerland relay, let me know and I'll get info to you. It sounds like a good way to get your program heard in Europe, Africa, and the Middle East.

Don't forget the WINTERFEST in a couple weeks. If you go, please promote A.C.E. any chance you get. More members means we can keep running these bigger bulletins more often without increasing dues.

WOW!!! Another HUGE DiaLogs column this month. I know Steve appreciates the support, even though you all are wearing out his keyboard! It's great to see several new contributors each month also. Keep reporting what you hear! But, I was amazed to see several stations with a full page or more of loggings. I do want to make sure that every contributor gets his or her loggings published, and that every transmission heard gets in print. In the future, please try to get as much pertinent information in as little space as possible. In most cases, these loggings are not reception reports and do not have to be as detailed. I have asked Steve to do a little more trimming whenever possible. I hope you all understand that I am not trying to discourage reporting everything you hear. It would also help if more of the "unaffiliated" stations would hook up with a mail drop. OK, I'll get off my soapbox this month!

The ANARC/ACE BBS is really smoking now! Well, it was smoking before, too, but that was the modem overheating! Kirk has installed a new 486 computer and 14,400bps modem. The modem was donated by Philip Ternahan and the computer was purchased with funds contributed by many ACE members and BBS users. If you haven't tried the BBS, or haven't logged on for some time, give it a try now! You can upload info to Steve, John and even George now. George's column was uploaded to me this month for the first time! He's still looking for the "ANY" key though. I can't find it either so if you can help, please drop one of us a line! ;*)

It's time to go...keep listening and see you next month!

Ship's pirate radio station raided by federal officers

An unlicensed and illegal radio station that operated on board the ship Fury in the Charleston area was shut down Tuesday by federal officers, according to the United States Attorney's Office.

The U.S. Marshal's Service, the Federal Communications Commission and the U.S. Coast Guard seized radio equipment from the vessel which was anchored in the Wando River, said U.S. Attorney J.P. "Pete" Strom.

The FCC determined the unauthorized signal, broadcast on shortwave frequency 7415, was coming from the Charleston area. They traced the source to the Fury vessel, Strom said.
